CarolinaEast Medical Center Restricting Visitation For Safety, Visitors Must Be 12 Years Old

(New Bern, NC) - Effective Tuesday, January 7th and until further notice, visitors to CarolinaEast Medical Center must be at least 12 years old. This limitation is due to the high incidence of influenza in our community and across the state and country. Children under the age of 12 are more at risk of contracting and/or spreading influenza and other viruses. "We held off making this decision as long as we could, but patient safety is our top priority," said Brandy Popp, Manager, Public Relations and Outreach. "As with most hospitals in our region, patient census is at an extreme high. We ask for your understanding and patience as we move through this challenging flu season," she added.

Flu Alert

Visitor Restrictions

No Visitors Under 12 Years Old

Limit Two Visitors Per Patient

Refrain from Visiting if You Are Not Feeling Well.

In addition to the age limitation, CarolinaEast requests there be no more than one to two visitors per patient at any time. CarolinaEast asks that you refrain from visiting if you are experiencing any of the following symptoms: cough, fever, diarrhea, vomiting or respiratory symptoms.

CarolinaEast leadership will continue to monitor the situation and adjust as patient and service needs evolve. "Even with our resources being strained, our employees will do whatever it takes to make sure our community gets the quality care it deserves. That is what we have done 24 hours a day for over 55 years," said Popp.

There is widespread flu activity in 23 states: Alabama, Arizona, California, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Washington.

Flu spread significantly in all states except Alaska through the week ending December 7.

The Oriental Dragon Run

The tradition continues.....Oriental rang out the Old Year and rang in the New Year with the annual Oriental Dragon Run. Crowds gathered in downtown Oriental clanging pots and pans as the dragon ambles down Hodges Street. Legend says that a rub of the dragon's head will bring you good luck throughout the New Year.

ORIENTAL | The area's largest public New Year's Eve celebration — the Oriental Dragon Run — has been happening for quite a while and still commands a large crowd and attracts new faces on the Oriental waterfront.

Tuesday night was no different, with hundreds of people packed along a block-long section of Hodges Street for a chance to see and touch the dragon that comes out each Dec. 31.

The event has evolved into two performances — an early evening event to accommodate families with children, and the late-night run. That is followed by the traditional lowering of the Croaker from the mast of a sailboat at the town dock.

Law Enforcement Appreciation Day January 9th

By: Jim White

Every year, January 9th is designated as Law Enforcement Appreciation Day. Law enforcement Officers of every rank and file have chosen a profession that puts their life on the line every day for their communities. They've answered a call to public service that is demanding and often unappreciated. From local, state, and federal, their duties command dedication the jobs are often thankless and take them away from their families for long hours. Rarely do they know what their days have in store for them. Often law enforcement are the only paid emergency resource a community has. More often they work in coordination with other local, state, and Federal organization to make communities safer.

On National Law Enforcement Day, we have an opportunity to thank them for their service and offer a token of respect. Several organizations came together to create National Law Enforcement Appreciation Day in 2015 to thank officers across the country for all the daily sacrifices they make for their communities. Since then, the inaugural celebration, nationwide many more organizations have joined forces to support National Law Enforcement Appreciation Day to spread encouragement and respect to these dedicated men and women.

Pamlico County Sheriff Chris Davis said that "usually people in the community would drop off stuff at the office, such as snacks and stuff like that. We would usually eat around the office and that is typically it." He went on to say, that "it is a time to reflect on what we do in our communities and how we support our communities and our communities support us. And often, you know, during this week, people will call the office or stop by the office, just to thank us for what we're doing in the community to make it a safer place." He added, "we appreciate the community support. You know how it is, this is a tough job, but it's a lot tougher if you don't have the community supporting you and that's something that we really have here. Our community is always behind us and always appreciative of what we are doing to keep this community safe."

The editor talked with Officer Bill Wichrowski of the Oriental Police Department. He said, "I think it is a good time for everybody to think about and appreciate the police officers and what they do, especially in this climate nowadays. You don't get that feeling here in Pamlico County, mind you. But it seems like a movement away from respecting the police and so forth and almost demonizing them if you will. Yeah, so I think it's a good time for everyone to realize and appreciate what we do and why we do it." Wichrowski went on to add, "Maybe if they see a cop, just thank them for what they do. I can't speak for everyone, but I know I entered this profession because I like to help people. I think most people do." Wichrowski is also in the fire department and a member of the rescue squad.

There are a number of things you can do to show your appreciation to the local Law Enforcement Officers for their dedication to the community. Send a note of thanks to your local, county or state police agency. Wear blue, turn your social media channels blue or shine a blue porch light to show your support. You can share a story about a positive law enforcement experience on social media or in the local paper, ask children in the community or schools to write letters or draw pictures in support of law enforcement.

COMMUNITY

OBITUARIES

Debra Ellen Loar Lowery, 66, of Grantsboro, passed away at her home Sunday, December 29, 2019 with her family by her side. She was a longtime resident of Pamlico County and was a member of Goose Creek Pentecostal Holiness Church. Sadly, she was preceded in death by her parents, Ellen and Robert Loar; her brother John Loar, and her son, Sonny James Lowery, Jr. Ms. Debra was a loving and hard working woman who helped anyone in need. The last few months of her life, showed her true fighting spirit, pushing through her pain, letting all her family know she loved them dearly. Her pain and suffering her on earth has ended and she's with her son again, after 30 years. Her family holds dear the happy memories of a full life.

George Riley "G.R." Harper III, 58, of Reelsboro passed away Tuesday, December 24, 2019. He was preceded in death by his father, George R. Harper Jr.; brother, David Harper; and sister, Annette Harper Hall. He is survived by his mother, Mildred Harper Hall; son, Jess Harper; daughter, Breeze Harper; brother, Gerry Wayne Harper; sister, Terry Harper Cannan; grandchild, Paul Aiden Riley Harper; special aunt, Marie Story; and lots of nieces and nephews.

Her memorial service will be held Saturday, January 11th at Trinity Methodist Church.

James "Jim" Robert Taylor, known to many as Saucy of Grantsboro, NC went to be with his Lord on January 4, 2020. He was 81 years old and was surrounded by his family in his home when he passed. You could always find Jim around the New Bern Farmers Market on Tuesdays and Saturdays, selling his award-winning barbeques sauce, Taylor's Southern Pride". He took pride in his sauce and it was his passion. He loved the market and all the people there. Jim was a family man and valued his time with them. Growing up, his children recall yearly family vacations and countless weeknight and Sunday dinners. Jim loved to tell a good joke and always had one. His family was important, and everyone knew it. From picking up his kids at school to picking up grandkids and watching them throughout the years. He was so proud of all of them. His great-grandchildren were even more special to him. He would see them, and his eyes would light up and he would smile. Bragging about his family was something you would find him doing often. More important than his family though, was God's word. You could always find him sitting daily reading his Bible, until he was unable to do so.

A visitation celebrating Ms. Debra's life will be Thursday, January 2, 2020 from 6-8:00 PM, at Pollock-Best Funeral Home. Online condolences may be made at www.pollockbest.com. Arrangements by Bryant Funeral Home & Cremations, Alliance.

Jim was born in Hannibal, MO in 1938 and moved to Homestead, FL during his childhood and that is where he met his wife of 52 years, Janice Mayo Taylor. They moved to her hometown at the beginning of their marriage and started their family. He was preceded in death by his parents "Zip" and Ruth Taylor. He is survived by his wife and their three children, Teresa Taylor, Tammy (John) Staten, and Ginger (Chip Dickinson); grandchildren, Tiffany (Blake Dunbar), Amanda (Braxton) Bettis, Brandon (Michaela) Broughton, and Dale Dickinson; great-grandchildren, Drake and Harper Dunbar, and Adaley and Lyam Bettis. 2020 Civil War Presentation
The Fight for the Old North State

Presented by Hampton Newsome

Sunday, January 19, 2020 2 - 3:30 pm | NC History Center, 529 South Front Street

You are probably aware of the first Battle of New Berne in 1862 and subsequent Union occupation of the town. But did you know that one of the last successful Confederate offensives centered on a massive resolve to retake New Berne?

In January 1864, Robert E. Lee wrote to Confederate President Jefferson Davis "The time is at hand when, if an attempt can be made to capture the enemy's forces at New Berne, it should be done." Over the next few months, Lee's dispatch would provoke a momentous series of events as the Confederates, threatened by a supply crisis and an emerging peace movement, sought to seize Federal bases in eastern North Carolina. Our speaker, Hampton Newsome, will discuss these operations and place them in the broader context, including a contested gubernatorial election; the social transformations in the state brought on by the war; the execution of Union prisoners at Kinston; and the activities of North Carolina Unionists.

Hampton Newsome is the author of the recently published book The Fight for the Old North State: The Civil War in North Carolina, January-May 1864, which was recently listed in Civil War Monitor magazine as one of the best books of 2019. He also wrote Richmond Must Fall, which covers the Richmond-Petersburg campaign in October 1864, which was recognized as a best book of 2013 by Civil War Monitor, and was a finalist for the Richard B. Harwell Book Award given by the Atlanta Civil War Roundtable. Newsome maintains a blog titled "Ransack Garret and Closet," which can also be found on Twitter and Facebook. He lives in Arlington, Virginia and grew up in Richmond; however, with parents from Ahoskie and Tarboro, he has deep roots here in the Old North State.

Books will be available for purchase, with a "meet the speaker" reception and book signing following the presentation.

Reservations are strongly recommended and can be made with a suggested $10 donation, with proceeds going to the History Walk extension project at New Bern Civil War Battlefield Park.

Iran Conflict and the President

Jim White

So the Democrats are up in arms that the President ordered a strike on Iraq which killed the number one terrorist in the Middle East, Maj. Gen. Qasim Soleimani. Yet, when Obama was president and Bin Laden was killed by our forces, those same Democrats rose up in support of Obama. What has changed? Was the President right in attacking Soleimani and killing him? Did the President have that power? Now the country is up in alarm that a major war with Iran is imminent and they are crying foul. At this time in the life of the country, you need a score card to keep up with the changing opinions of the Democrats.

Let's be brutally honest. The main duty of the President of the United States is to keep the people of the United States safe. It is his job to do whatever he has to, to do that job, above all else. Qasem Soleimani has masterminded numerous attacks on American forces and individuals over the past years and this attack on the American embassy in Iraq was the final straw. Hillary just turned her head when they attacked the embassy in Benghazi, and asked, "What does it matter?" Well obviously, it does matter, at least to a lot of people. Trump is no Clinton for sure. He has made it clear that he will not tolerate other forces attacking Americans abroad and that he will do whatever necessary to protect American lives. Killing Soleimani was justified and no different than killing Ben Laden. Both were terrorists of the first order whose number one goal is to destroy Israel and hurt America as much as possible.

Legally, did President Trump have the authority to attack Soleimani in a foreign country? Yes. His job is to protect American lives and Soleimani has spent much of the past years taking American lives and was constantly preparing to continue doing so. Plus Congress has already given the President of the United States the authority to do a strike if he sees that there is imminent danger to the United States or to Americans abroad under the War Powers Act. This he did. Even without the War Powers Act, the President of the United States has the responsibility to take what ever action necessary to protect the citizens of the United States at home and abroad.

The next issue is War with Iran. I doubt there will be war between them and us. Neither country really wants it although there is a lot of saber raddling right now. Neither side will win in such a war, so really neither side wants a war, although both sides like to talk "Smack."

When it comes to war, I am a strict constitutionalist. ONLY CONGRESS HAS THE LEGAL CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO DECLARE WAR. However, Congress has abdicated that right. In fact, it did so years ago in Korea when they allowed President Truman commit thousands of American troops to Korea in a fight that was not our own without a declaration of war from Congress. Yes, Congress financed that war, but it never declared war on Korea. Then ten years later, Congress again abdicated its legal and constitutional right to declare war AGAIN when it allowed Presidents Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon to send tens of thousands of our boys into a war that was not our war, to die for nothing. Yes, the Congress voted on the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, but that was long after the fact and then it did not declare war on North Vietnam or any of the other countries in the area. It gave the President of the United States to wage war on his own. Then there was Jimmy Carter, good ol' Jimmy. He sent men into Iran to free the hostages, but that was welcomed as heroic even though he "invaded" foreign territory. But the Democrats did not cry then either. And what about Regan sending troops into Granada or Ford sending in troops into Panama and capturing Noriega. Was that criminal or justified? And then George Bush Sr. sent the troops into Kuwait, again without a declaration of war as did his son George Jr. Again, Congress abdicated its Constitutional Right to declare War. In fact, the United States has been in war for the most part of the twentieth and now the twenty-first century without a declaration of war. Congress can fuss all it wants but it only has itself to blame. It has set up a pattern over the years where it has allowed the President to determine if a war was necessary and then send troops in and basically declare war unilaterally.

It's not up to me to decide if we need to go to war with Iran, Iraq or anyone else for that matter. BUT it is up to the Congress to make that decision and to do so as necessary. NOT the President of the United States. The Constitution is clear on that. Congress has established a dangerous precedent. Now it will take a unified Congress to turn that around. (Like that is going to happen.)

OBITUARIES

Anthony Maurice Scozzafava, 1935-2019

Anthony Maurice Scozzafava passed away on December 28, 2019 at his home surrounded by his family. He was a dedicated husband, father, grandfather and active member of Saint Peter the Fisherman Catholic church. He was a talented butcher, passionate sailor and enjoyed talking about and preparing food. A funeral Mass was held at St. Peter the Fisherman, Oriental, on Monday, January 6, 2020 at 2:30 pm. In lieu of flowers, contributions can be made to the Anthony Scozzafava Angel Fund in care of St. Peter the Fisherman Church, St. Peter the Fisherman, 1149 White Farm Rd. Oriental, NC 28571.

Anthony was born in Jersey City, NJ, to Morris and Frances (Torchio) Scozzafava. He was introduced to the family business early, working after school at the family butcher shop. Growing up, he spent his summers on the Jersey shore. He graduated from St. Peter Prep in 1953 and received his BA in Business from St. Peter's College in 1968 with four of his six children bearing witness to this accomplishment.

As if foreshadowing a lifelong love of sailing, he met Evelyn, the love of his life, during a boat ride to Rye Beach New York on a high school outing. Anthony and Evelyn married in 1958, raising their six children in Leonia, New Jersey. He owned several butcher shops in Jersey City, NJ, where he specialized in crafting authentic Italian sausages and smoked meats.

His foray into sailing began in the 1970's with his family of eight on a Venture 24, appropriately named "Crowded". His family has some not-so-fond memories of drifting on the Hudson River, NY between the high walls of the Palisades waiting for the winds to rise, while avoiding harbor barges. His love of sailing became a major part of his rest of his life, leading to larger, swifter boats and longer trips to Long Island Sound, Cape Cod and farther shores.

After selling his butcher shops in 1994, Anthony retired to Oriental, NC, drawn to the area for its beautiful water views and amazing sailing community. He quickly became part of the Oriental community, making lifelong friends through groups such as Just for Fun and the Sailing Club of Oriental (SCOO). He traveled with a group of SCOO members down the Intracoastal Waterway to the Caribbean Islands, fulfilling a lifelong dream.

Anthony immediately became an active member of the Catholic parish in Oriental. Along with a dedicated group of parishioners, he helped to build St. Peter the Fishermen Catholic Church. He supported the church in many ways. A popular event was the Feast of San Gennaro, where Anthony's homemade sausage was a best seller.

In 2004, Anthony traded in his sailboat for an RV. He spent the next decade exploring dry land. Anthony enjoyed seeing new places and meeting new people. Over the years he traveled to Alaska, China, and Israel; took a river cruise on the Rhine, a boat tour of the Mediterranean Sea, and sailed through the Panama Canal. A highlight of his travels was a trip to Poland led by a native Polish priest who exposed him to authentic Polish cuisine.

Anthony is survived by Evelyn, his wife of 62 years, his children Mary Rose, Evey, Lori, Anthony, Beth and Matthew, his sister Gloria and brother James, and his grandchildren Sharon, Daniel, Maya, Andrew, Becky, Adam, Leah, Anthony III, Brielle, Jimmy, Emily, Julia and Dominick. Love of family was a guiding force throughout his life. His children fondly remember his many words of wisdom and in particular "For every privilege, there is a responsibility".

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Hello my name is Deborah Gates. My son lived around the area years ago. He has been incarcerated now for over 5 years so he lived down there before this. He was transferred from Mountain View Correctional to Pamlico as he wanted to better himself and take a class at Pamlico that would give him a degree in H.R. He was not there long and he got locked up in the hole and was not told why and they transferred him to another prison. I called the prison to find out why this had happened and it was all over a girl who is a new guard at the prison that he knew years ago and has not seen since, he dated her mom. So just because he knew who she was he was thrown in the hole, sent to another prison and denied taking this course to help him when he gets out. I am sure you all read the stories of the need of prison reform and this is just one thing that happens but jails/prisons are really bad treating the inmates like they are nothing. Inmates already have some kind of issues to get into them and then their problems are increased by the how they are treated by the Superintendents and officers, and other inmates and a lot of times how the inmates treat the others are allowed by the officers. In our society it seems people do not like to face Truth but it is very much needed. We need to demand that the officers in prison wear body camera's just as the police do. Anyone in those positions of authority need to be held responsible and accountable for their actions. If only the public could see what goes on in the jails and prisons. I am very upset with how my son has been done just because he knew of this girl. I called the prison but the superintendent was not in last week. I called Raleigh DPS and they told me to call the Regional office and I did and they sent an email to the prison and Daniel Everett called me back. I told him facts that this guard had been a friend on my son's Facebook and since being there at Pamlico he through me messaged her to say he had not heard from her in a long time and asked how she was doing. She responded back to him and said she was doing ok and asked where he lived down there. So she could be on his Facebook as a friend and respond to him but because he was there at the prison she was a new guard at my son had to suffer all he has. He had no clue she worked there! It is sad when someone is trying to do good yet the system keeps knocking them down. I finally spoke to the Superintendent at Pamlico after he refused to talk to me I called the Governor's office and then he called me. I told him I felt my son was punished for no fault of his own but they didn't seem to care. And so as it stands, my son is at another camp and denied the right to take this course to help him, suffered in the hole for 5 days. So this is the system we deal with and stuff happens like this all the time in jails/prisons but seems no one cares to bring changes to the injustices.

Sincerely

Deborah Gates

Thinking About Summer Already?

Kait Neeland
4-H Agent

It's the second week of January and even with the balmy weather we've been having my mind has already turned toward summer. I'm thinking about the herb garden we want to put in, calculating how many tomato plants would be just under ridiculous, planning to take my niece swimming, and maybe find a hill we can roll down. I'm also thinking about what summer 4H programs we're going to have this year. I'll never stop thinking of summer as that hazy, magic time when everything seems possible; however, as a grown up I can also see it as a time of significant risk for our youth.

One of the greatest concerns for children in summer is the cost our kids pay, on average, of a month of school year learning. While these months of vacation, are wonderful opportunities for children to be out of doors and experiencing new ways of learning, the result can be children returning to school a month behind the benchmarks they're expected to meet. Beginning the school year already behind, can make it difficult for children to meet the new year's objectives. While it is possible to recover some of this loss, it can be compounded every year, increasing more dramatically as children reach higher levels of education. The most significant decline is found in math, one of the key hard skills needed for employment as our industries grow more and more dependent on individuals skilled in STEM, (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math).

While it may seem like there could be no concern for our kids that could equal or surpass this loss of learning, there are additional concerns. What will our kids be eating while school is out. Many school children benefit from nutrition programs during the school year but do not have that option during the summer. For the past two summers we've been privileged to partner with Love Thy Neighbor to provide programs that help meet both these needs. We are planning for summer of 2020 to be even better!

Summer Fun 2020 will see the continuation of our partnership with Love Thy Neighbor. If you haven't heard about Love Thy Neighbor, it's a community outreach program that offers summer lunches three days a week to all Pamlico County Kids at the Occasions Event Center on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 11:30 to 1:00pm. This year we will also be providing summer fun learning opportunities one afternoon a week for any kids who would like to participate. Kids can plant herb gardens, learning chemistry as we create art, develop math skills as we explore wood working, as well as, enjoy lunch and vegetables from the garden. We are very grateful for all the hard work Ms. Vickie Mosely Jones and all of the volunteers who provide this opportunity.

I am super excited to see our partnership with Love Thy Neighbor grow, however, it isn't the only awesome program coming in summer of 2020! Our Book Explorer's, which continues once a month through the school year, will be picking up again every other week this summer. Are you always itching for a new adventure? If so, being able to read stories and learn about countries and people all over the world right from our Pamlico County Public Library, is an easy and exciting favorite kind of adventure! Along with the stories we get to read, we also listen to music, eat food, learn geography, and create art from those cultures!

We are also looking to being out in the garden, planting vegetables and learning how plants go from the garden to the table with our Garden to Gourmet 4-H Summer Day Camp. There is no way to celebrate summer like getting your hands in the earth and watching plants go from seed, to seedling, to vegetable producing plant. But what do you do with all that awesome produce? Our youth will be following the process all the way through to the kitchen, where they will learn kitchen and food safety, as well as have a great time participating in a cook off!!!

As excited as I am for our 2020 Summer Fun Programs I'm also excited for our Upcoming Spring 2020 Programs. We will continue our monthly book explorers, and Robots and Programming workshops, we will also be kicking off some new programs. Our 4-H Presentations Club will begin in March, as well as the culmination of our Pamlico County 4-Hers hard work for the Coastal Plains Livestock Show, and the Coastal Plains Chicken shows in April and May. I am also excited to see all of the hard work our Shooting Sports Teams put in during this next year!

Along with our partnership with Love Thy Neighbor, Book Explorers, and Garden to Gourmet, we have several other 4-H Day camps, and workshop days ahead in Summer Fun 2020! If you are interested in participating or learning more about any of these programs follow us on social media for real time updates, or give our office a call 252-745-4121. Don't forget to check out our upcoming 4-H Programs Including Book Explorers and Robots. Hopping around the globe with Book Explorer's is fun, and who doesn't want to play with robots? Our next Book Explorers will be in January 29th 3:30pm at the Pamlico County Library. We will be going to Australia. Our next Robotics Program is January 15th 4:30pm at the Pamlico County Cooperative Extension Office. (Get on the list for our next Robots and Programming Workshop Series!) Kitchen Chatter

by Nancy Winfrey

Easy Chicken Tetrzini

1 large fryer, cooked and chicken removed from bone, chopped
 1 cup uncooked spaghetti, broken in half
 1 cup chicken broth
 1 can cream of mushroom soup
 1/2 jar pimiento, chopped
 1 small green pepper, finely chopped
 1 rib celery, finely chopped
 1 onion, finely chopped
 1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
 Dash Worcestershire sauce

Combine all above ingredients and mix thoroughly. Place mixture in a generously buttered casserole. Bake in 350 degree oven for about 45 minutes. If dish seems to be drying out, add a bit more broth.

Potatoes Stuffed With Sausage

Great dish to serve along with steamed cabbage and it's easy too!

For each serving, use one medium potato (any variety). Use link sausage. You will need 1/2 slice bacon or thinly sliced salt pork, 1 teaspoon butter or margarine, salt and pepper to taste and parsley. Peel potatoes and with an apple corer or small knife, make a hole about 1/2-inch in diameter, through the potato lengthwise. Stuff 1 link sausage through each hole of potato. Place potatoes in baking pan, dot with butter, salt, pepper and chopped parsley and cover with bacon or salt pork. Place in 375 degree oven and bake until potatoes are tender, basting occasionally.

Potato Casserole

2 cups creamed cottage cheese
 1 cup sour cream
 1/3 cup finely chopped onions
 1 clove garlic, minced
 2 teaspoons salt
 5 cups cooked, peeled and cubed potatoes
 1/2 cup grated mild, medium or sharp Cheddar cheese
 1/2 teaspoon paprika, if desired

Combine all ingredients except the grated cheese and paprika. Blend well and place mixture into a generously buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika. Bake in 350 degree oven for about 40 minutes. Serves 6 to 8.

NOTE: If you would like to serve as a main dish, add a bit of finely chopped cooked ham, cooked crumbled sausage, etc.

Dilled Chicken & Potatoes

1 fryer chicken, cut up
 1 pound new potatoes, cut into chunks, peeling on or off
 2 tablespoons vegetable or olive oil
 1 cup half-and-half cream
 1 to 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 3/4 cup finely chopped or thinly sliced green onions
 1/4 cup snipped fresh dill or 1 tablespoon dill weed
 1/2 cup sour cream

In a large skillet over medium heat, add the oil and brown the chicken pieces, along with the potatoes for about 10 or 15 minutes. Remove the chicken and potatoes and set aside. Discard all but 1 tablespoon of the drippings. To the drippings, add the cream, salt and pepper and stir to blend well. Return chicken and potatoes to skillet. Sprinkle with onions and dill. Cover and simmer for 50 to 60 minutes or until chicken juices run clear and potatoes and chicken are tender. With a slotted spoon, remove the chicken and potatoes to a serving platter and keep warm. Add the sour cream to pan and stir to mix and heat until hot and bubbly and serve over the chicken and potatoes. Serves 6.

Hot Potato Salad

5 large red cooked potatoes, cut into cubes
 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
 1/2 cup celery, finely chopped
 2 onions, finely chopped
 2 teaspoons salt
 8 slices bacon
 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
 3 tablespoons sugar
 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
 1/4 cup water
 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, if desired

Combine the potato cubes, sliced eggs, celery, onions and salt in a large mixing bowl and toss to blend. Place mixture in a generously buttered baking dish. Cook the bacon in a small skillet until crisp and remove from the pan, drain and crumble. Leave 4 tablespoons bacon drippings in skillet and add the mustard, sugar, flour, water and vinegar and blend well with drippings. Bring mixture to a boil and then pour over the potato mixture. Sprinkle with parsley. Keep hot until ready to serve. Serves 8.

Chicken Nuggets

6 chicken breast halves, boned and skinless
 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons sesame seeds
 1 egg, lightly beaten

Sunday January 5, 2020 was Epiphany Sunday. This day commemorates the coming of the Magi (Wise men) to visit the Christ child and to bring him gifts. They were the first Gentiles to worship Jesus. Epiphany concludes the great Christological cycle of Advent-Christmas-Epiphany. As a child, we used to refer to it as "Old Christmas." For me, this signified the ending of the twelve days of Christmas and the time when we would remove our Christmas tree and decorations. I always heard the rumor that on this night the animals would bow down to Jesus as well. I could just never stay up to find out for sure.

As many of you know Charlie's is under new management in 2020. It has been closed and is slated to reopen later this week. That meant that there was a larger crowd than usual eating at Mayo's after church on Sunday. While I waited for my takeout, a group of 18 came in and had to wait to be seated. This gave me an opportunity to chat with several of them.

This group from the World Renew Disaster Response Services is staying in the Methodist provided housing for volunteers in Aurora, NC. This is a group of volunteers from as far away as Alberta Canada, Ohio, New Jersey, Michigan, and several other states. They will be in the area for three weeks working on helping a homeowner in Oriental and two homeowners in Aurora. They attended worship services at Aurora UMC Sunday morning before they came to Mayo's for lunch. This is a really nice group of people and we are blessed to have them volunteering in our area.

The World Renew Disaster Response volunteers are working under the leadership of Mr. John Raimier who is heading up Disaster Recovery for the United Methodist Church out of the Washington, NC office. Mr. Raimier is coordinating recovery efforts at Ocracoke as well as several areas in Eastern North Carolina.

The Lucas Tree Company is still working in Oriental and Merritt clearing out under power lines for Tideland EMC.

Celebrating birthdays in January are Elizabeth Farmer Tillman (1/15), Kelli Hinson and Ruth Ireland (1/16), Ned Ferris (1/21), Kate Moye and Jenny Lupton (1/22), Desiree Brinson (1/25), and Shari Roberts Hale (1/31).

Happy New Year to everyone! Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years Day seems as though they came on top of each other! We fried turkeys at Thanksgiving and Christmas Day but had the traditional black eyed peas and collard greens for New Years Day. Russ and Jeanna, Ken and Rhea, and the boys, Jacob, Harry and Noah were here for Christmas. The Bryans hosted the pizza party on Christmas eve and Rita and Greg hosted the New Years eve party. Today is Sunday and due to the first bad cold I have experienced in several years, I had to miss the service. Reverend Cayton is still filling in until the minister can get back. Suzy Bryan told me that Nancy Huff died on New Year's Day. Nancy and Will were in the Pamlico Chorale for years until Nancy had a stroke. She was one of the busiest volunteers I have ever known. I also received the news that Evelyn Scozzafava's husband Tony passed away. Evelyn was in the Chorale for several years. My heart goes out to the families. The weather was beautiful on Saturday after Christmas, so Kevin and Bill loaded up their boats and everyone went out on a great sail.

Thought for the week-- Forget the resolutions because by January 12th you will have broken them! Have a great year!

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Protect Yourself Against Long-term Care Costs

Dan M. Roberts

If you're fortunate, you'll live independently and in good health throughout your retirement years. However, if you ever needed some type of long-term care, such as a stay in a nursing home, would you be financially prepared?

To answer this question, you may want to evaluate two variables: your likelihood of needing long-term care and the cost of such care. Consider the following:

- Someone turning age 65 today has an almost 70% chance of eventually needing some type of long-term care, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.
- The average cost for a private room in a nursing home is about $100,000 per year, while a home health aide costs about $50,000 per year, according to Genworth, an insurance company.
- Clearly, these numbers are worth thinking about. If you needed several years of long-term care, the expense could seriously erode your savings and investments. And keep in mind that Medicare typically pays only a small percentage of long-term care costs. Therefore, you may want to evaluate the following options for meeting these expenses:
- Self-insure – You could “self-insure” against long-term care expenses by designating some of your investment portfolio for this purpose. However, as the above numbers suggest, you'd likely have to put away a lot of money before you felt you were truly protected. This could be especially difficult, given the need to save and invest for the other expenses associated with retirement.
- Long-term care insurance – When you purchase long-term care insurance, you are essentially transferring the risk of paying for long-term care from yourself to an insurance company. Some policies pay long-term care costs for a set number of years, while others cover you for life. You can also choose optional features, such as benefits that increase with inflation. And most long-term care policies have a waiting period between 0 and 90 days, or longer, before benefits kick in. You'll want to shop around for a policy that offers the combination of features you think best meet your needs. Also, you'll want an insurer that has demonstrated strength and stability, as measured by independent rating agencies. Here's one final point to keep in mind: Long-term care premiums get more expensive as you get older, so if you're interested in this type of coverage, don't wait too long to compare policies.

- Hybrid policy – A “hybrid” policy, such as life insurance with a long-term care/chronic illness rider, combines long-term care benefits with those offered by a traditional life insurance policy. So, if you were to buy a hybrid policy and you never needed long-term care, your policy would pay a death benefit to the beneficiary you've named. Conversely, if you ever do need long-term care, your policy will pay benefits toward those expenses. And the amount of money available for long-term care can exceed the death benefit significantly. Hybrid policies can vary greatly in several ways, so, again, you'll need to do some research before choosing appropriate coverage.

Ultimately, you may decide you're willing to take the chance of never needing any type of long-term care. But if you think that's a risk you'd rather not take, then explore all your coverage options carefully. There's no one right answer for everyone – but there's almost certainly one for you.

History of Martin Luther King Jr. Day
Pamlico Library will be closed Monday, January 20, 2019 in honor of Martin Luther King Day. Dr. King was an American clergyman and civil-rights leader. He became minister of the Dexter Ave. Baptist Church in Montgomery, Alabama in 1954. He led the black boycott of segregated city bus lines in 1956 and gained a major victory as a civil-rights leader when Montgomery buses began to operate on a desegregated basis.

King organized the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), which provided a base to pursue further civil-rights activities, in the South and later nationwide. His philosophy of nonviolent resistance resulted in his arrest on numerous occasions in the 1950s and 60s. His 1963 protest in Birmingham, Alabama earned him worldwide attention. He brought together more than 200,000 people on the March on Washington in August 1963 where he delivered his famous “I Have a Dream” speech. In 1964, at the age of 35, he was the youngest man and the third black man to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

His interests widened from civil rights to include criticism of the Vietnam War and a deeper concern over poverty. His plans for a Poor People's March to Washington in 1968 were interrupted for a trip to Memphis, Tennessee in support of striking sanitation workers. On April 4, 1968, he was shot and killed as he stood on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel.

Since his assassination, Mrs. Coretta Scott King has devoted her energy and attention to developing programs and building the Atlanta-based Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change as a living memorial to her husband's life and dream. The King Center is the first institution built in memory of an African American leader and hosts over one million visitors a year.

“The name, given to the month of ‘January’, is derived from the ancient Roman name ‘Janus’ who presided over the gate to the new year. He was revered as the ‘God of Gateways’, ‘of Doorways’ and ‘of the Journey.’ Janus protected the ‘Gate of Heaven’, known as the ‘Lord of Beginnings’, is associated with the ‘Goddess Juno-Janus’, and often symbolized by an image of a face that looks forwards and backwards at the same time. This symbolism can easily be associated with the month known by many as the start of a new year which brings new opportunities. We cast out the old and welcome in the new. It is the time when many reflect on events of the previous year and often resolve to redress or improve some aspect of daily life or personal philosophy.”

Hurricanes success in Adidas Winter Tournament.

By: Parker Watson

As many relaxed in the middle of the Holiday season, the Hurricane Men's Basketball team did anything but take a break, playing three games in the Adidas winter tournament. Pamlico played against Whiteville, North Brunswick, and Dillon Christian in the tournament, on the 26th, 27th, and 28th respectively

This is not the first year that Pamlico has participated in the winter tournament, and this year it proved to be a success, as well as an important experience for the team.

"I was pleased with our performance at the tournament. We got to experiment with a couple of new lineups," said Head Basketball Coach Earl Saddler. "We installed a couple of new defense wrinkles that will be valuable as we move along."

Pamlico played Whiteville first and began the tournament with a loss in the lowest scoring Pamlico's lowest-scoring game. Whiteville defeated Pamlico by eight points with a score of 53-45 at the end of the fourth quarter.

The Hurricanes did not let the close game at the beginning of the tournament deter them and learned from the defeat.

"Honestly all of our players have improved and we saw that during the tournament. Landen Mitchell improved his finishing around the basket, Jaquan Jones' entire game has stepped up. That's just a couple of examples," said coach Saddler.

The next day, North Brunswick attempted to defeat the hurricanes. Even with the Home court advantage, North Brunswick could not stop Pamlico as they stepped into their swing. The Hurricanes won the second game of the tournament with an exciting score of 70-66.

"The biggest gain we got from the tournament was we came together as a team. The time away from Pamlico County together helps bond the guys together," said Coach Sadler.

In the final game of the tournament, Pamlico played Dillon Christian. The hurricanes improved their game throughout the week and ended the tournament with their highest-scoring game of the week, and another victory.

Pamlico left the tournament with a winning record, winning two games to their one loss, but the Canes gained more than just a couple of wins at the tournament. The men's team has improved constantly throughout the season and has played better as a team at the same time. The tournament gave the Canes the push they needed to take their game one more step up.

"I believe the tournament was a natural evolution of what we have done this year. We began putting some things together that we have struggled with earlier in the year. I would say we played in some of our best basketball at the tournament," said Coach Sadler.

Signs And Symptoms Of Lung Cancer

Cancer is the leading cause of death across the globe, accounting for 9.6 million deaths in 2018 alone. Statistics from the World Health Organization indicate that more than 20 percent of those deaths were due to lung cancer, making it the most deadly cancers in the world.

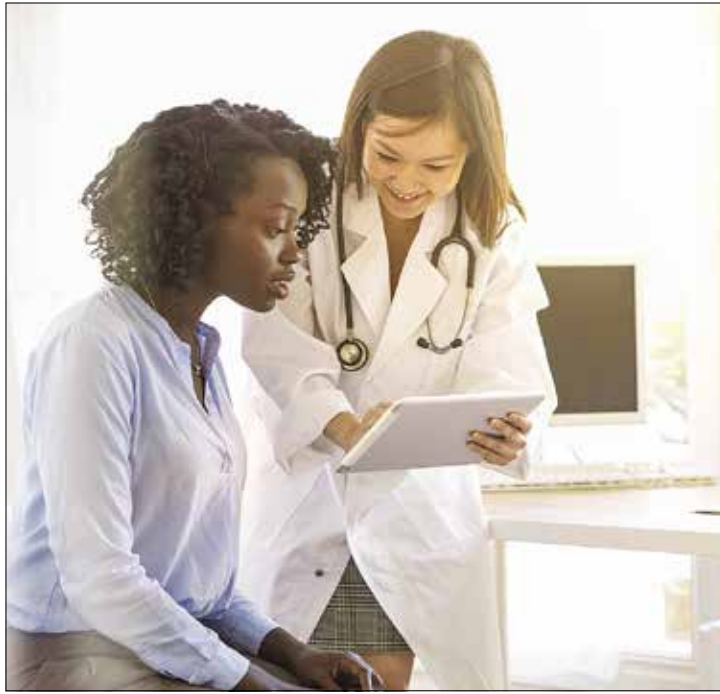

Early detection is often essential to surviving various forms of cancer, and lung cancer is no exception. In fact, the Lung Cancer Foundation of America notes that the five-year survival rate for people diagnosed before the cancer has spread rises from 18 out of every 100 to 55 out of every 100. With so much at stake, it pays for men and women to learn the signs and symptoms of lung cancer.

Recognizing the signs of lung cancer involves both learning about its potential symptoms and identifying risk factors. The LCFA says symptoms do not typically manifest themselves in the early stages of lung cancer, though there are some classic symptoms that should be discussed with a physician if they appear. Those symptoms include:

- Persistent cough: This is especially concerning for people who cough up rust-colored sputum
- Shortness of breath
- Hoarseness
- Chronic bronchitis
- Chest pain
- Unexplained weight loss
- Bone pain

These symptoms are not generally a cause for concern by themselves, but doctors may still recommend patients who experience them be tested for lung cancer.

Understanding lung cancer risk factors is another important step men and women can take in the fight against this deadly disease. Smoking is a major risk factor for lung cancer, but the LCFA notes that a growing number of people who have never smoked are being diagnosed with lung cancer. So even non-smokers are at risk of lung cancer, which might come as a surprise to those who have never used tobacco. People who have any of these risk factors should speak with their physicians to determine if screening for lung cancer would be in their best interest.

- Exposure to second-hand smoke
- Exposure to radon gas
- Exposure to asbestos
- Exposure to other carcinogens, such as chromium and nickel
- Air pollution
- Arsenic in drinking water
- Previous radiation to lungs
- Personal or family history of lung cancer

Lung cancer can affect anyone, even people who have never smoked. Learn more about lung cancer at www.lcfamerica.org.
