

How often to see the doctor

Routine health checkups are a key part of staying healthy. Older adults may feel like they're always visiting one doctor or another. But what is an acceptable frequency for doctor appointments?

"The Blue Boy"

Oriental Elementary School Treasure Returns Home...

by Dennis Delamar

If you were a student at Oriental Elementary School on Church Street in the 1950s or 1960s, this striking print of Thomas Gainsborough's "The Blue Boy" framed in gold would likely bring back a fond memory of your childhood in Oriental. First on display in Mrs. Vivian Delamar's classroom, it eventually became the grand prize in a friendly competition for "display rights" among the grades. For the class with the highest attendance at the monthly PTA meeting, they were awarded the privilege of displaying "The Blue Boy" all month. The students took great pride in having him hang in the same spot on the middle panel in the center of the tall windows that ran wall-to-wall in each room. Students also felt the competitive loss when he had to leave his spot in their class and go to another room the morning after the PTA meeting. It was an ingenious idea concocted by the teachers to get the students enthusiastic about a classic famous painting as something of great value to them, while getting stronger involvement and parental support for the school. "Please come to PTA tonight so we can win "The Blue Boy!" was often heard in many homes.

In its final years, Oriental Elementary operated using only four classrooms for four combinations (1-2, 3-4, 5-6, 7-8) on the ground floor in the building closest to the Oriental Methodist Church. With only four teachers, the 7-8 teacher also served as principal and the coach of the 7-8 basketball team. The building closest to the Town Hall housed the stage and auditorium on the whole second floor. To increase the attendance of PTA meetings, to get more parents and family members involved, many of the meetings featured a play or a performance given by one of the combination classes. Each class was expected to take their turn and the community looked forward to them. Because families came out in force to see their children on stage, most often the class presenting the play won "The Blue Boy," sometimes by a landslide when the head count was done by the president of the PTA.

When the school closed in the late 1960s, fortunately Glenn C. Woodard Jr. (1936-2020) salvaged the picture. He took good care of it all these years at his home in Georgia. Fond of his own memo-

Lady 'Canes Seniors and Their Families

The Pamlico County High School Basketball teams had an eventful week. On Tuesday evening both Varsity squads had scheduled matchups against conference rival Jones Senior. It was also an evening planned to honor the senior members of the teams. Although normally both teams would receive this recognition together in front of a packed Hurricane alley, COVID forced the ceremony to be held pregame of each contest. The Lady seniors and their families who were honored were Anari Baron, Tea Boomer, DiAnnah Jones, Mirachell Maher and Lindsey Potter.

Once the women's game began, Pamlico pretty much had their way with the lady Trojans and led 25-3 at the end of the first quarter. After that, the evening took a dramatic turn. Between quarters, the game officials called all the coaches to center court for a conference to discuss, you guessed it, COVID. Test results of a Hurricane Junior Varsity member (who was not on the game schedule), had come back with a positive result and in the interest of safety, all further game activity for the evening was suspended. The next day practice video was reviewed by Pamlico coaches and administration and it was determined that there had not been enough contact between the JV squad and the two varsity teams to warrant a quarantine of the entire program and only the Junior Varsity would require it. Give high marks to the Pamlico coaching staff for practicing the COVID protocols required and for limiting the interaction between each of the three teams, as well as having video of all the practice time to review in order to verify this. The varsity season would continue at least for now.

Senior Guard Anari Barron #21

Senior Forward DiAnnah Jones #32

On Thursday the teams travelled to Beaufort County for varsity games against the Panthers of Northside and both squads brought back wins. The men won 59-24, while the ladies, led by frontcourt players Mirachell Maher and DiAnnah Jones, scored a 60-36 victory. Maher had double figures in both points and rebounds with 22 and 12, while Jones had a double-double of her own with 19 and 13.

The final matchup of the week, a Friday home contest with Southside, was postponed until next week. The Seahawks, who have had COVID issues of their own this season, requested the postponement to be on the safe side after Pamlico's early week virus issues.

The men currently sit in second place in the conference with a 6-2 record while the ladies occupy their usual position atop the Coastal Plains standings with a perfect 7-0 mark. Games (and hopefully senior night for the men) are scheduled for this week, but write that in pencil.

"Wonder" 12x9

Medal winner of the 2011 Oil Painters of America National Exhibition. Other awards include eight awards of excellence with Oil Painters of America (four National and four Regional). He has also won two consecutive Raymar Art Competition Awards of Excellence with Salon International, a first place, a second place and ten finalists with Boldbrush Art competition. Dan has had feature articles in "American Art Collector", "Southwest Art", "American Artist", "Art of the West", "Artists on Art", "Cape Fear Living" magazines and "Art Talk". His paintings were selected for the covers of November 2008 "Southwest Art" and September 2011 "Art of the West". Dan has been invited to many nationally prominent shows such as "American Art Invitational", "American Art in Miniature" and "Great American Figurative Show". He has also exhibited his works in many successful solo and group shows in galleries across the country. His paintings have found collectors in both the private and corporate world on a national level as well as from such diverse places as Canada, Japan and the Middle East. His work is in the permanent collection of the Littleton Historical Museum and he has exhibited with the Phippen Museum, Prescott, Arizona.

An opening reception will be held from 2-5pm March 6th., at The Village Gallery, 300 Hodges Street, in Oriental.

About the Artist:

Wanderlust was Dan's primary motivation in the decade following his graduation from high school. Dan took to the road, working jobs that included ranch hand in Arizona, construction on the beach of Florida, refinishing furniture in Louisiana and four years in the infantry, including a two year tour in Germany. Wherever he went, Dan filled sketch books and journals for his own enjoyment. Then in Colorado after a couple of years in college, he realized the thing that meant most to him was his sketch books. So, he quit his job and college, sold everything he had and decided that commitment to one path was where all the previous had led him. Dan has studied at the Art Student League of Denver, with numerous contemporary painters and has continuously studied the impressionist masters.

Minnesott Beach - Sue Riddick Slaymaker, aka Granny Sue, 81 of Minnesott Beach passed away suddenly on Tuesday, February 9, 2021.

Mom was preceded in death by her late husband, George Stern Slaymaker and her parents, Richard Henry Riddick and Mary Lydia Riddick of Alliance, along with her daughter, Mary Evelyn Avery, and a grandson, Garrett Hayes Avery. Mom is survived by her son, Mark Avery and wife, Carol Avery, of New Orleans along with her loving grandchildren, Harris, Travis, and Maddie Avery. Mom is also survived by her son, Mack Avery and wife, Susan Avery, of Oriental along with her loving granddaughters, Nicole Avery. Mom is also survived by one brother, Richard Henry Riddick, II and his wife, Sadie Murphy Riddick, of Merritt, NC and one sister, Lillie Riddick Reilly and her husband, Joe Reilly, of Morehead City, NC. Additionally, mom is survived by her four stepdaughters, Hollie Slaymaker Madamba and husband, Dave, of Linwood, NJ, Linda Slaymaker of Linwood, NJ, Sandy Jenkins of Old Fort, NC, and Valerie Ireland and husband, Ken, of Absecon, NJ. Mom is survived by 10 grandchildren, 8 great grandchildren and many cousins, nieces, and nephews.

Granny Sue was born in New Bern, NC. She graduated from college with a Social Workers degree from Troy State in Alabama. She was very active throughout her life. She moved around with her parent's and eventually in 1948 the Riddick family moved in with her grandfather, Malachi Watson Hooker, aka Daddy Mack in Alliance. As a teenager Granny showed calves at the State Fair in Raleigh. During her late teens she liked to go out to the "Minnesott Beach Pavilion" (that is no longer there). On Wednesday nights at the Pavilion, they bowled and on Saturday nights you could find them there doing the "Carolina Shag." Some weekends you would find her at the Dawson's Creek sandbar (that is no longer there) where she did some crabbing, water skiing, boating and watched people jump off the bridge. Granny went to Pamlico County High School, where she became a stand-out All-State guard in basketball. After her success as a High School basketball player Granny was invited to play basketball with the All-American Red Heads professional basketball team. Her father remarked; "You are not going to Raleigh and you are not going to color your hair red. You are going to college." In her young and adult life Granny attended many Riddick Reunions held throughout NC where she would see her aunts, uncles, and cousins. Granny liked to cook, dance, bowl, play board and card games and put puzzles together with the grand kids. As an avid golfer she enjoyed playing golf with all her friends at the Minnesott Beach Country Club and with friends in Myrtle Beach. Granny loved to sit on her back deck and wave to the golfers she knew as they walked by. That back deck has told and heard a lot of stories. She enjoyed her Happy Hour wine with friends on that back deck. She enjoyed going to Cancun, traveling on cruise ships, going to the Blue Ridge Mountains, going to Mardi Gras and St. Patrick Day parades in New Orleans, going to New Jersey and going to the farm in Mississippi. Granny loved oyster roasts, pig pickings, and cookouts with relatives and friends. Granny was a member of the Pamlico County Shrine Club Shrinettes. She was actively employed with Mariner Realty as a real estate agent up to the time of her death.

Mom enjoyed her life to the fullest. She was the glue that held the family together, the Matriarch. She was full of energy and her laughing is something we will all miss. She loved us all, but she really loved those grand kids! Over the past few years, she would always tell me "remember the good times and the memories." As if she was preparing me. I know she would tell all of us "move on, enjoy your life and have fun!" Mark 11:22 "Have faith in God."

Mom's memorial service will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, February 20th, at Bryant Funeral Home Chapel in Alliance with the Rev. Rex Horne officiating. Visitation prior to the service will begin at 10:00 a.m.

There will be a graveside service immediately after the memorial service to commence at the Greenleaf Memorial Park in Trent Woods. The family will receive relatives and friends immediately following the graveside service at a reception at the Pamlico County Shrine Club.

The family suggested making memorial contributions to the Sudan Shrine Temple in care of the Shrinettes, P.O. Box 12829, New Bern, NC 28561.

Arrangements by Bryant Funeral Home & Cremations, Alliance.

Equally adept at figurative, still-life and landscape, Dan is an experimenter by nature, as well as being firmly rooted in the tradition of Impressionism. His love of nature and a deep respect for the tradition of art serve as both guide and inspiration to his goal of "making a contribution" to the world of painting. Dan's paintings evoke a timelessness and dignity that are the underlying themes in whatever he paints. "Painting is a balancing act between opposite ideas - direct observation and instinct, control and spontaneity, even between the literal and the symbolic. It seems to me that although a painter is deeply involved with his own private investigation, his real aim is to communicate something to the viewer that resonates on a uniquely personal level."

Dan now lives in Wilmington, North Carolina with his wife and two daughters

PCC's Medical Assisting program prepares graduates to meet growing health care needs

By Sandy Wall

The market demand for health care professionals already was strong, even before the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Pamlico Community College's Medical Assisting program is designed to meet the ever-growing need for front-line health care workers by preparing men and women to be multi-skilled health care pros who are qualified to perform administrative, clinical and laboratory procedures in a variety of health care settings.

"Health care is a growing segment of our region's economy, and the demand for medical assistants is continually on the rise in primary care facilities," said PCC President Dr. Jim Ross. "Pamlico Community College is working to meet that need. Graduates of our college's Medical Assisting program have gone on to rewarding careers helping residents of our community. We are very proud of our program and the positive impact it has had on Pamlico County and Eastern North Carolina."

The Medical Assisting program, which is headquartered at the college's Grantsboro campus, offers a two-year Associate of Applied Science degree option and a three-semester Diploma option.

Upon successful completion of the program, students are eligible to take the CMA (AAMA) exam to become nationally certified in the field. This certification is essential for medical assistants seeking employment.

Job opportunities are numerous, with employment of medical assistants nationally projected to grow "much faster than the average of all occupations" between now and 2029 as the health care sector expands to meet the needs of a growing and aging population, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

PCC's program coursework, which includes anatomy & physiology, medical terminology and other classes, is rigorous, but PCC's small class size and caring faculty help to make it manageable. The program also includes hands-on learning opportunities and clinical work off campus.

"If you have a love for the medical field and the desire to make a difference in the lives of others, becoming a medical assistant is the perfect career for you," PCC Medical Assisting Instructor Tina Hardison, a 2015 program graduate, said in a previous interview. "The joys that I personally experienced practicing as a medical assistant coming to the aid of others has been extremely rewarding and life altering."

For more information about PCC's Medical Assisting program, please contact Hardison at 252-249-1851, ext. 3044, or thardison@pamlicocc.edu.

ries growing up in Oriental, Glenn was a great friend and advocate of Oriental's History Museum and a believer in preserving Oriental's history. In his lifetime he donated several significant pieces from his personal collection that are on display. After he passed away in January of 2020, his family felt it was most fitting for "The Blue Boy" to be back home in Oriental, something Glenn would be quite happy about. A piece of our history returns.

FOOTNOTE:

"The Blue Boy" was painted by Thomas Gainsborough in 1770. The life-size original portrait in oil hangs in the Huntington Library in San Marino, California. There it is on display with a companion piece, "Pinkie," painted twenty-four years later in 1794 by Thomas Lawrence of an eleven year old girl in a pink dress. Gainsborough and Lawrence are considered to be two of England's finest 18th century portrait artists. According to Patricia Failing, author of Best-Loved Art from American Museums, "no other work by a British artist enjoys the fame of "The Blue Boy."

FINANCIAL FOCUS

What Can Investors Learn from 2020?

Dan M. Roberts

Now that we're a few weeks removed from 2020, it's a good time to reflect on such a momentous year. We can think about developments in the social and political spheres, but we also learned – or perhaps re-learned – some valuable lessons about investing.

Here are four of them:

- A long-term perspective is essential. Volatility in the financial markets is nothing new, but, even so, 2020 was one for the books. Of course, the COVID-19 outbreak was the driving force behind most of the wild price swings. Soon after the pandemic's effects were first felt, the S&P 500, a common index of U.S. large-cap stocks, fell 34% but gained 67% by the end of the year. Consequently, investors who stuck with their investment portfolios and kept their eyes on their long-term goals, rather than on shocking headlines, ended up doing well. And while 2020 was obviously an unusual year, the long-term approach will always be valuable to investors.

- Investment opportunities are always available. The pandemic drove down the prices of many stocks – but it didn't necessarily harm the long-term fundamentals of these companies. In other words, they may still have had strong management, still produced desirable products and services, and still had good prospects for growth. In short, they may still have been good investment opportunities – and when their prices were depressed, they may also have been "bargains" for smart investors. And this is the case with virtually any market downturn – some high-quality stocks will be available at favorable prices.

- Diversification pays off. Bond prices often move in a different direction from stocks. So, during a period of volatility when stock prices are falling, such as we saw in the weeks after the pandemic hit in March, the presence of bonds in your portfolio can lessen the impact of the downturn and stabilize your overall returns. And this, in essence, is the value of maintaining a balanced and diversified portfolio. (Keep in mind, though, that diversification can't guarantee profits or prevent all losses.)

- The market looks ahead. The pandemic-driven market plunge may have been stunning, but it made a kind of intrinsic sense – after all, the sudden arrival of a pandemic that threatened lives, closed businesses and cost millions of jobs doesn't sound like a positive event for the financial markets. But the strong rally that followed the initial drop and continued into 2021 has surprised many people. After all, the pandemic's effects were felt throughout the rest of 2020, and are still being felt now, so why did stock prices rise? The answer is pretty straightforward: The financial markets always look ahead, not behind. And for a variety of reasons – including widespread vaccinations, anticipated economic stimulus measures from Congress and the Biden administration, and the Federal Reserve's continued steps to keep interest rates low – the markets are anticipating much stronger economic growth, possibly starting in the second half of 2021.

All of us are probably glad to have 2020 behind us. Yet, the year taught us some investment lessons that we can put to work in 2021 – and beyond. This article was written by Edward Jones for use by your local Edward Jones Financial Advisor. Edward Jones, Member SIPC

NC COOPERATIVE EXTENSION Pamlico County

Secure Your Load for Litter Free Roads

Daniel Simpson, County Extension Director, Agriculture Agent

"Secure Your Load for Litter Free Roads" is the new slogan for the Pamlico County litter awareness campaign. Litter is becoming an increasingly common sight along the highways in Pamlico County. Litter creates not only an eyesore within our community, but adds to potential road hazards, undermines economic development, and threatens the natural environment.

One of the most common sources of litter along our roadways is unsecured trash blown from vehicles. While there are offenders who intentionally dispose of their trash through illegal littering, many motorists may be unknowingly contributing to this problem. Under North Carolina state law, it is illegal to haul improperly secured loads, and intentional and unintentional littering both carry fines and penalties. To help reduce this issue, motorists need to properly secure their loads using tarps, cargo nets, or tie downs to prevent debris from leaving vehicles. Placing lighter items on the bottom with heavier items on top may also help.

To help combat the issue of litter, Pamlico County is planning several litter awareness projects during 2021. The first of these activities will be the "Secure Your Load" campaign to educate citizens on the importance of reducing unintentional littering by properly securing your load on your vehicle. To help facilitate this effort, citizens will notice new signage near the entrance of the Pamlico County Transfer Station (3192 NC 306 North, Grantsboro, NC 28529) and near the recycling convenience centers. Pamlico County is also planning a tarp distribution event on March 6 and April 3, 2021, from 7:30 AM to 12:00 PM, at the Pamlico County Transfer Station for those motorists who need a tarp to help cover their load. If you have questions about this event, you can contact Garry Cooper at 252-745-2094, garry.cooper@pamlicocounty.org or Daniel Simpson at 252-745-4121, daniel_simpson@ncsu.edu.

Pamlico County is also planning a Clean Sweep event for April 24, 2021, for volunteers who would like to help collect litter along our roadways or other public areas. Pamlico County will provide safety vests, gloves, trash bags, and extended reach grabbers to aid volunteers. Pamlico County will also help coordinate with these volunteers to dispose of collected litter. If you are interested in volunteering for this event or would like to learn more, please contact Garry Cooper at 252-745-2094, garry.cooper@pamlicocounty.org or Daniel Simpson at 252-745-4121, daniel_simpson@ncsu.edu.

Littering costs North Carolina millions of dollars each year and the problem can only be solved if citizens take an active role in addressing the issue. Let us all do our part, secure our loads, and support our community.

KEEP PAMLICO COUNTY BEAUTIFUL

SECURE YOUR LOAD FOR LITTER FREE ROADS!

IT'S THE LAW!

Below are good safety tips to help secure your load:

- Lighter goes lower-Put items that weigh less on the bottom.
- Tie it down-Use ropes, bungee cords, straps or netting to secure large or heavy items directly to the vehicle. Check that your restraints are in good condition and are not damaged in any way.
- Cover it up-A tarp or netting can be used to keep loose items from blowing off, but remember to secure the tarp properly.
- Double-check-Walk around each side of the load and check the top to make sure everything is secure.

BE AWARE:

Millions of dollars are spent each year removing litter from roadsides. You may not intentionally litter, but if you do not secure the items in your truck bed, you are contributing to roadside litter. We all share a responsibility to keep our county clean.

It's illegal under N.C. law to haul an improperly secured load. Penalties for littering include up to a $2,000 fine, community service and one point on a motorist's driver license upon conviction.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA UTILITIES COMMISSION RALEIGH

DOCKET NO. E-100, SUB 165

BEFORE THE NORTH CAROLINA UTILITIES COMMISSION

In the Matter of 2020 Biennial Integrated Resource Plan
Reports and Related 2020 REPS
Compliance Plans

) NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON ) 2020 BIENNIAL IRP REPORTS AND ) RELATED 2020 REPS COMPLIANCE
) PLANS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the North Carolina Utilities Commission (Commission) has scheduled a public hearing in conjunction with the Commission's review and evaluation of integrated resource planning (IRP) in North Carolina. The purpose of the review and evaluation is to ensure that each regulated electric utility operating in North Carolina is developing reliable projections of the long-range demands for electricity in its service area and is developing a combination of reliable resource options for meeting the anticipated demands in a cost-effective manner. IRP is intended to identify those electric resource options which can be obtained at least cost to ratepayers in North Carolina consistent with adequate, reliable electric service. IRP considers conservation, efficiency, load management and other demand-side program alternatives in the selection of resource options. Commission Rule R8-60 requires that each of the electric utilities furnish the Commission with a biennial report in even-numbered years that contains the specific information set out in that Commission Rule. In odd-numbered years, each of the electric utilities must file an update report updating its most recently filed biennial report. In addition, regulated electric utilities are required to include their plans for meeting customer electric needs via renewable energy resources and energy efficiency programs by submitting a Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency Portfolio Standard compliance plan (REPS compliance plan) as part of the IRP filing.

During the public hearing to be held in this docket, the Commission will receive testimony from nonexpert public witnesses with respect to the most current IRP reports and REPS compliance plans filed in 2020 by Duke Energy Progress, LLC; Duke Energy Carolinas, LLC; and Virginia Electric and Power Company, d/b/a Dominion Energy North Carolina. Public witness testimony will be received in accordance with Commission Rule R1-21(g).

A night hearing for the convenience of public witnesses and solely for the purpose of taking nonexpert public witness testimony shall be held by the Commission on Tuesday, March 16, 2021, at 7:00 p.m. The hearing shall be conducted remotely via Webex. A link to view the hearing will be available at www.ncuc.net.

Persons desiring to present testimony for the record must register in advance of the hearing, no later than 5:00 p.m. Thursday, March 11, 2021 by contacting the Public Staff via email at IRPPublicHearing@psncuc.nc.gov or by calling 866-380-9816. Testimony will be limited to five minutes per individual.

Only individuals registered with the Public Staff by 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 11, 2021, will be allowed to testify at the hearing.

Anyone wishing to review the 2020 IRP reports and REPS compliance plans filed by the utilities may do so at the Commission's website, www.ncuc.net, by selecting the Docket tab and entering Docket No. E-100 Sub 165. Upon request, the Chief Clerk will place copies of the IRPs, compliance plans and any other documents filed in this proceeding in centrally-located public libraries where they may be copied without prohibition. Such a request may be made by writing to the Chief Clerk, North Carolina Utilities Commission, 4325 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, North Carolina 27699-4300, and providing the name and address of the library to which the information is to be mailed.

Persons desiring to send written statements to inform the Commission of their positions in the matter shall address their statements to Chief Clerk, North Carolina Utilities Commission, 4325 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-4300

The Public Staff is authorized by statute to represent consumers in proceedings before the Commission. Written statements to the Public Staff should include any information that the writers wish to be considered by the Public Staff in its investigation of the matter. Such statements should be addressed to Mr. Christopher J. Ayers, Executive Director, Public Staff – North Carolina Utilities Commission, 4326 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-4300

The Attorney General is also authorized by statute to represent the using and consuming public in proceedings before the Commission. Statements to the Attorney General should be addressed to The Honorable Josh Stein, Attorney General, 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, North Carolina, 27699-9001. Written statements may be emailed to utilityAGO@ncdoj.gov.

ISSUED BY ORDER OF THE COMMISSION.

This the 2nd day of February, 2021.

PAMLICO CHRISTIAN ACADEMY

Celebrating 100 Days

PC A celebrated our 100th day of school on Thursday, February 4th! Our lower school classes focused on activities related to the number 100, and many of our students and faculty dressed up like centenarians for the celebration! Going to school for 100 days was something we always took for granted, but this year we are especially thankful we have been able to be in school every day for those 100 days!

Upper School Earth Science

Students in Mrs. Amber Watson's Earth Science class have been studying volcanic activity. Students had a great time building their own volcanos (something that many of us had fond memories of as a child). Here are some of the pictures of students and their creations!

Using Our Public Library

Our 6th grade students recently finished the novel "The Call of the Wild" by Jack London. We utilized the resources of the Pamlico County Public Library to have students watch the most recent movie by that same name and then library staff discussed the differences in the novel versus the movie with students. We are thankful for our public library!

Love Letters to God

Mrs. Kim Stark's 2nd grade students wrote love letters to God recently. We have our students focus on writing at every grade level. In 2nd grade, they practice their handwriting skills! These were encouraging letters for sure!

Carolina Gold Rice returns to North Carolina and it's grown in Pamlico County

The Rice Men, Al Spruill and Tommy Wheeler, like to say they have the "Best Rice Farm in North Carolina," then with an honest grin, admit that "it's the only rice farm in North Carolina."

Rice farming returns to NC after 120 years. Now, heirloom Carolina Gold Rice is grown in Pamlico County and sold just a few miles away and online at the Nautical Wheelers stores in Oriental and New Bern, NC. This Christmas you can share a little bit of Pamlico County.

Rice grew in the Tidewater lowlands of the Carolinas up to Norfolk from the late 1600s to the early 1900s when hurricanes and the beginning of widespread commodity farming ended rice farming on the east coast.

Why are Al & Tommy growing rice? "We don't grow it because it's easy. We grow it because we believe you deserve it. It's too good not to share."

AROUND THE COUNTY

Goose Creek Island Annette Jones, 55 Plus Club Correspondent

Things are still pretty quiet on the island and Mesic. Most everyone is staying home and following rules when they do have to go out. We have not heard of any new names to add to the prayer list, which is a good thing! However, please remember all of us seniors who have "conditions" and make numerous trips to see our doctors. If we woke up in the morning and felt good, we'd wonder what was wrong!

Praise offerings: Richard Henries (still in hospital but is doing much better) and Julius Flowers who have been in the hospital are both improving.

Happy Birthday: Roy Howard Lupton, and Rosie Bateman Willis February - 18, Leland Tetterton February - 19, Cynthia Midgett Robey, Cynthia Midgett, Ryan Gillikin and Douglas Randall Jones February - 20, Alex Brothers and Foster Watts February - 21, Jared Rowland, Gloria Carawan Guzman, and Sarah Jones February - 22, Asher Sparr Henries, Lisa Ross Bain and Deborah Hicklin Jones February - 23, Christina Rhoden Godwin, Sydney Anderson Austin and Lillie Mae Pegram February - 24.

Happy Anniversary to O.B. & Dean Howerin who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Valentine's Day with family. Congratulations!

Rhonda Mayo and Kathy Tyndall attended a baby shower honoring Trent & Ashley Prescott of Stonewall held at the Shrine Club in Grantsboro. The event was hosted by family and friends. The couple received many lovely and useful gifts. A baby girl is expected in April. Congratulations Prescott family!

Gary & Rhonda Mayo, Amber Mayo & boyfriend Chris Grady and Holly Ireland & boyfriend Michael Henries dined at the "Love Bird Special" Valentine Dinner at Mayo's Restaurant Saturday night! Everyone enjoyed the delicious meal and romantic theme of the evening!

I was delighted to receive a visit from Chris & Amber on Valentine's Day. They brought a bouquet of beautiful flowers, lots of candy and other goodies! Most of all, I enjoyed the nice long visit! Hope everyone had a lovely Valentine's Day!

We pray that everyone enjoyed Valentine's Day with lots of goodies! Love, Annette, Karen & Nick.

Ash Wednesday is a Christian holy day of prayer and fasting. It falls on the first day of Lent, the six weeks of penitence before Easter. Ash Wednesday is traditionally observed by Western Christians. The Ash Wednesday Service at Stonewall United Methodist Church will be at noon on February 17, 2021. It will be a short service including the imposition of ashes and special music by James Edwards. Alliance UMC will have their Ash Wednesday Service February 17, 2021 at 6:30 pm. You are invited to attend either service. Masks and social distancing are requested.

There is a new bar-b-que restaurant in Oriental. It is called Rick's NC BBQ. It is open Wednesday-Sunday at 11:00 am. It is in the same building as the Oriental Museum, just on the opposite end of the building. I have not tried it yet, but I have seen some good reviews on Facebook.

Roy got his second vaccine for Covid-19 this week and it put him under the weather for a couple of days. He was mostly sore, and achy, with a low-grade fever. Tylenol helped him through it. He still must follow the three W's, because he could be a silent carrier and still give Covid-19 to others.

Tideland EMC is continuing to replace power poles and upgrade the power lines along Trent Road and they have also done some work at the intersection of Trent Road and Straight Road. There is a dangerous curve near Broad Creek United Church of Christ, so please drive carefully. We want to do all we can to protect the linemen as they are upgrading the electric service to the Pamlico Community. There has also been some clearing of the right of way on Trent Road, so continue to expect some delays when traveling Trent Road.

Those celebrating birthdays in February include Sheryl Kaye Sanders & William McKinley Harrison (2/15), Esther Jane Lupton (2/20), Tillie Roberts (2/24), Elizabeth Cuthrell (2/25) and Penny Ford will not get a year older since her birthday is February 29th. Lovebirds Karen and John Deaton celebrate their wedding anniversary on February 13. Remember February 14 is Valentine's Day, so tell someone you love them.

Have a blessed week. Greedy? Take Spiritual Vitamin G. "Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again." (Luke 6:38)

I start the same way every week with rain, rain, rain, and more rain. The two ducks who spend a great deal of time in the water in front of our house evidently enjoy the rain and the cold water. The good news this week is that the virus is slowly going away as people get their shots and take precautions. I go to church to play for the service on Sundays.

Attendance was down today due to the weather. Bill Nickerson was the speaker today and had a very good message. Reverend Caton, son Billy and Sam, the service dog drove down from New Bern in the rain to support Bill. Russ and Jaenna went to St Thomas in Oriental and are enjoying their new church. Attended the Women's Auxiliary meeting on Monday. Had a wonderful lesson, then Sylvia Nickerson helped us make food for the birds using pine cones covered with peanut butter and bird seed. Debbie Whorton put hers outside and enjoyed watching the birds feed but the next morning the whole thing was gone! Dave Mallizeg has been running back and forth from Raleigh to Whortonsville while waiting for his wife's surgery. Remember them in your prayers. Saw Ed Terry and wife Beverly at Mayo's one night and he told me his Music Hall is still open outside of Grantsboro. The Cuthrells just returned from a trip to Florida. Today the Bryans, the Nickersons, and the Tillers had lunch with me. We are suffering from "cabin fever" and since we have been very careful about staying home, we feel safe with each. I am still hoping that sometime this year we can have the celebration of Weeks life. Mattie and Elizabeth Cuthrell have birthdays this month.

Thought for the week--America is great because America is good, and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great.

I couldn't wait any longer and got more spring fever. I found a gorgeous blooming pink hydrangea at From The Heart Florist in Bayboro for my kitchen table. It will be planted later in the spring when we update the flower bed by the wood fence. Also at FTHF I purchased a charming oil canvas by local artist Helen Leary. This was my first visit there and I definitely will be back. WB Thompson now has a Facebook page. You should visit and see all the wonderful merchandise. Two Ole Junkies has also posted some interesting items lately.

I saw a lone Loon on the creek the other day and observed again a group of Pine Siskins. A Bluebird couple is now investigating the nesting box. The chickens had a standoff with a squirrel and the Mockingbird tried his best to fend off a group of Blackbirds. White Pelicans have been constant visitors on the creek. Chipping Sparrows are finally back at the feeder after a year and a half.

On 2/6 Aurora VFD recently acquired a two story home for training. They were blessed with great weather and some very talented help from several fire departments from Pamlico County and a group of students from a firefighter certification class from Pamlico Community College. They were able to have live fire training, water supply, pump operator, and numerous other fireground tactics.

We finally had a frost in the yard on 2/8. I suppose being on the water protects us, as just a half mile away on the road out will be frost, but nothing here. We never have frost on the windshields.

Lots of animal movements are apparent because we've seen car accidents with a Screech Owl, Yellow Slider and Coyote not to mention the more common mishaps with possums and raccoons. On 2/9 we saw on the back way to New Bern that big bunch of Turkeys with that one white one.

The birds and maybe squirrels (we're up to 4 in the yard now, the most in several years) are really working the pine cones. We see lots of them on the ground where they have been stripped. Many times we can see seeds fluttering down from their dining.

I submitted my data for the Great Backyard Bird Count and logged in 12 species and 155 birds for 2/13. You do this through eBird and my sighting was for three hours.

And needless to say: Rain, rain, go away. Our driveway looks like a truck rally.

Health & Wellness

How often to see the doctor...

Routine health checkups are a key part of staying healthy. Older adults may feel like they're always visiting one doctor or another. But what is an acceptable frequency for doctor appointments?

The answer isn't always so cut and dry, and many health professionals have mixed feelings even among themselves over the magic number. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends adults over the age of 65 visit the doctor more than twice as often as 18- to 44-year-olds. According to Paul Takahashi, a physician at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., adults should see their primary care physicians at least once a year to make sure diseases are being properly managed and to stay current on preventative screenings.

Visiting the doctor more frequently does not necessarily add up to better health, and it actually can do the opposite. Dr. Peter Abadir, an associate professor of medicine at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, says frequent visits to health facilities where sick people congregate puts one at a higher risk of illness or infection. Visiting the doctor only when necessary is one way to avoid risky exposure.

Doctor visit frequency is not a one-size-fits-all answer. A yearly physical or checkup is a given, even for people who are healthy. People with a family history of certain conditions, like sleep disorders, cancer, high blood pressure, and other conditions, may need to see a doctor more frequently than those with no such histories. In addition, patients may need referrals to certain specialists who work together to provide an overall health plan. That can increase the number of appointments and shorten the intervals between them. Johnson Memorial Health offers some statistics.

- People visit the doctor four times a year on average.
- Studies show that poor or uninsured people prolong the time between doctor's visits.
- Individuals with high blood pressure may need to see the doctor four times a year to ensure medications are working properly.
- Patients on dialysis see the doctor several times a week.

Dr. Jennifer Caudle, a family physician and assistant professor at Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine in Stratford, NJ, says too often people visit the doctor only when they are really sick. That works to their disadvantage because the appointment will focus only on treating the illness instead of addressing other preventative care and screenings. Balance is necessary in regard to health care.

Patients can work together with their doctors to develop screening schedules that are customized to their particular profiles. These schedules can be modified as health history information changes or as patients age. Doctors can dial back or increase health visits as needed.
